

Landesa @ UNFCCC COP29

November 11-22, 2024 | Baku, Azerbaijan

Landesa's Advocacy Priorities

1 Encourage Parties to include land rights in their updated Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs) by offering technical support, sample language, and example indicators.

2 Ensure that protections for land rights and land tenure are included in tools and assessments that oversee Article 6 of the Paris Agreement, especially the Article 6.4 Sustainable Development (SD) Tool. The Article 6.4 SD Tool is a mechanism for monitoring the social and environmental impacts of emission mitigation outcomes achieved in one country and transferred to count towards another country's NDC. We advocate for additional considerations for land rights to strengthen Principle 7: Gender Equality, Principle 8: Land Acquisition and Involuntary Resettlement, and Principle 9: Indigenous Peoples.

3 Add "social integrity" to Article 6.2 of the Paris Agreement. Article 6.2. requires that countries transferring emission mitigations from one country to another "promote sustainable development and ensure environmental integrity." We urge Parties to add a requirement for "social integrity" in Article 6.2. This addition will help ensure vulnerable communities are not disproportionately affected by projects contributing to another country's NDC.

Stand for Her Land is proud to support these advocacy priorities.

Landesa (accredited as Rural Development Institute) champions and works to secure land rights alongside millions of people experiencing the most severe poverty worldwide, mostly those living in rural areas, to provide opportunity and promote gender equality and social justice.

To learn more or get involved, contact Ellen Marson at ellenm@landesa.org.

SIDE EVENT

Land Rights for Climate Justice

Tuesday, November 19

18:30-20:00

Room: Side Event 3

French & Spanish Interpretation

Hosted in partnership with Global Green Environmental Network (GLOGEN), this event will highlight the critical role of land tenure in strengthening countries' Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs), showcasing how securing land rights for Indigenous Peoples, local communities, and women can enhance climate action strategies.

CONNECT WITH US @ COP29

Dr. Jessica Hernandez

Climate Change & Land Tenure Specialist

jessicah@landesa.org

WhatsApp: +1 323 637 9942